

A world map showing the distribution of countries by color: blue, red, and grey. The map includes all major continents and islands, with country borders clearly delineated. Blue countries are primarily located in North America, South America, Australia, and parts of Europe and Africa. Red countries are found in Europe, Africa, Asia, and the Pacific. Grey countries are mostly in Asia and the Pacific region.